Woodburn Interchange and Transit Facility Project Update

The Woodburn Interchange and Transit Facility project is underway and on schedule! This project will significantly improve both safety and the normal traffic flow – and reduce travel time – in and around the busy interchange of I-5 and OR 214/219.

Major project elements include:
- An additional travel lane in each direction of OR 214/219;
- New 6-foot wide sidewalks for pedestrians, bike lanes, raised median with traffic signals;
- Dedicated turn lanes on to local streets;
- Reconstructed interchange with higher capacity on and off ramps, and a wider bridge over I-5;
- New multi-modal transit/park and ride facility with electric vehicle charging stations;
- Evergreen Road extension that will provide greater local interconnectivity and access to businesses;
- A “gateway” design unique to Woodburn, promoting economic development; and
- Aesthetically pleasing sound walls to reduce noise for nearby residents.

Recent Accomplishments

The project contractor, K&E Construction of Salem, began the project in July and has already completed some significant tasks.

Evergreen Transit/Park and Ride facility complete
- Opened on November 1st.
- Future transit service is planned at this City of Woodburn-operated facility.
- Available for overflow parking during the Company Stores’ “Midnight Madness” event.

Evergreen Road extension complete
- The connection between the existing roadway and the new section of Evergreen Road was completed in early October.

New temporary southbound I-5 off ramp open
- Traffic shifted to this new ramp at the end of October.

Minimizing Impacts During the Holiday Season … and Beyond

In an effort to help manage holiday traffic congestion, there will be no lane or ramp closures for a six-week period beginning on Wednesday, November 27, 2013 through early January 2014. Construction crews will be working exclusively off the road system – but you may see them working on the embankments and abutments. Following the holidays, the project will continue to have all lanes open during the day. Any lane closures will occur at night. Nighttime work will take place through most of the construction and will help to reduce daytime traffic congestion.
